By Associated Press.
WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES IN
FRANCE, Jan. 11, via London, Jan. 12.—Through rain, mist, fog and deep mud, the British army in continuing day by day to pound the German line. Although there has been no distinctly spectacular action recently, dully and nightly trench raids and the drumming of the artillery have continued. These operations have yielded a constant inflow of prisoners and have kept the casualty list growing.

According to the stories told by the prisoners, the British tactics have harassed the German troops almost beyond endurance.

The last week has witnessed some typical so-called minor operations culminating with an attack before dawn today north of Beaumont Hamel. This action brought the total of prisoners taken in this area in the last three days to 300 and placed in British hands some important sections of trenches.

On Tuesday night the British attacked a deserted section of the German line which was taken with a yield of 140 prisoners.

ENTENTE SAYS PEACE IS NOT POSSIBLE NOW.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—The Entente Allies, replying to President Wilson's peace note in a joint communication, express the belief that it is impossible at the present moment to attain a peace that will assure their reputation, restitution and such guarantees as they consider are essential.

In a separate note, the Belgian government expresses its desire for peace but declares it could only accept a settlement which would assure its reputation and security in the future.

Both of the communications, made public by the State Department last night, are dated January 10 and were transmitted in translations from the French text through Ambassador Sharp at Paris.

Much interest attached to the demand for restitution of provinces wrested from the allies in the past. While no special locality was named, Alsace-Lorraine is understood to be indicated, together with any further territorial readjustments that the military situation might justify. This clause is understood to have been inserted for its elasticity.

BERLIN SAYS ALLIED ATTACKS ARE FAILING

BERLIN, Jan. 12.—Two attacks were made by the British this morning on the French front north of the Aisne river. North of Beaumont the British gained the initial success, the war office announced, but were driven back with heavy losses by a counter attack. A third near Serre broke down under German fire.

The Rumanian town of Lăpuș was captured yesterday by the invading Teutonic troops, says the war office statement. The Russians were driven back toward the Sereth between Bula and Calatz.

THAW MAY BE OUT WITHIN TWO WEEKS

Self-Inflicted Wounds Not Serious and
No Signs of Poisoning
Are Seen.

By Associated Press.
PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 12.—Harry K. Thaw, who attempted suicide yesterday while in seclusion in the home of a West Philadelphia family, was improved today and according to physicians he will be able to leave St. Mary's Hospital within probably two weeks.

Dr. Ellwood R. Kirby of this city who was summoned by the Thaw family to attend him said today he felt sure Thaw had not taken poison. The finding of slow poison tablets in Thaw's pockets gave rise to the fear that he may have swallowed one. The physician said Thaw showed none of the early symptoms of the poison and that his condition was satisfactory.

The patient, under guard of two detectives, and a nurse, spent a good night. He has had little to say since brought to the hospital. He asked for his doctor during the night but did not ask for any members of his family nor did he make any reference to the charges against him by the New York authorities who accuse him of kidnapping and beating Frederick Gunder, Jr., of Kansas City.

Frank Johnston, an attorney of New York, and Dr. Walter Riddell of Pittsburgh, are here to look after Thaw's interests.

"I was with Thaw in this city Monday night," said Johnston. "At that time Harry was in high spirits and I noticed nothing wrong or unusual about him. The members of the Thaw family are very suspicious of the boy's charges against Harry. The fact that the mother of this youth has saved up various pieces of evidence arouses suspicion and weakens the case."

Dr. Riddell said he came not in a professional capacity but as a personal representative of Thaw's mother. It is said among Thaw's friends here today that advantage may be taken of the police purpose to have him arraigned on a charge of attempting suicide, in order to delay his removal to New York until public opinion about the Gunder case becomes settled. It is pointed out by them that only one side of the case has been made public.

Assistant District Attorney Tauline of this city, however, said that any resistance to extradition Thaw may make will not have its foundation in an attempt at self-destruction. He explained that "extremely theoretical judges" will accept such a charge in the courts at present. Years ago it was decided in the local courts that persons who attempted suicide had suffered their own punishment without the state inflicting further penalties.

ACCIDENT CAUSED FIRE

Investigate Kingsland Explosion; No Loss of Life.

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—Investigation today by New Jersey and New York police of the explosion and fire in the Kingsland, N. J., plant of the Canadian Car & Foundry Company disclosed nothing to indicate that the origin was other than accidental. It was announced, further inquiry is to be made and it is understood that any further territorial readjustments that the military situation might justify. This clause is understood to have been inserted for its elasticity.

"The enfranchisement of populations subject to the bloody tyranny of the Turks" is said to apply to Armenia, part of which has already declared its independence under allied control, Armenia, most of which is occupied by Russian troops, and Syria, the southern tip of which British troops from Suez have just reached. It is felt that if the Turks were also driven from Europe, only a small part of their empire would be left.

Police investigators indicate that the fire started when a spark fell upon a pile and ignited an inflammable fluid, while the flames spread when a workman attempted to extinguish them. The property loss is estimated at between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000. Early reports of loss of life have not been confirmed. No bodies have been found.

County Commissioners Declare They

County Commissioners Logan Rush and Charles E. Nutt called The Courier to day and invited an inflammatory article on the subject of the proposed bridge over the Allegheny river. It is their function to act after the grand jury has passed on matters of this kind, they assert. If the petition is denied by the grand jury, it does not come before them officially.

The commissioners declare they have no knowledge of a demurrer to the petition being filed with the court.

ALUMNI'S SHOW

Rev. Showers Requests Meeting to Interpose Objections to "Miss Dolly Dimple."

At the request of Rev. J. S. Showers, pastor of the United Brethren Church, a meeting of the Ministerial Association was called by Rev. C. C. Buckner, president, this afternoon. Rev. Showers said that he would enter objections to the amateur show, "Miss Dolly Dimple," which is to be produced next week under the auspices of the Alumni Association.

The fact that the production is being staged at a time when the churches are in the midst of an evangelistic campaign, is said to be Rev. Showers' principal objection to it, which is shared by other clergymen.

"The ministers met at 1 o'clock and discussed the matter at some length, but decided to take no formal action. They expressed regret that anything should have taken place to interfere with the religious meetings and a decision was reached that the churches should be 'loyal to the Lord's work' while the revivals are on."

None of the Alumni officers could be reached this morning for a statement, but it is known that the contract with the Misses Moorehead to put on the show was signed several months ago, without thought of interference with the evangelistic campaign.

JUDGE BRUNN DIES

Picturesque Figure in State Politics Passes Away.

MINERSVILLE, Pa., Jan. 12.—Judge C. N. Brunn of the Schuylkill County Common Pleas Court died at his home here last night as a result of a stroke of apoplexy. He was stricken New Year's day, and had been unconscious ever since.

Judge Brunn, who was 78 years old, was a picturesque figure in Republican politics in Pennsylvania. He represented this district in Congress several terms, and was one of the organizers of the State Patriotic Order Sons of America. During the Civil War he held a commission as captain.

Judge Brunn was known here, having spoken at political meetings throughout this section.

BIRTHS ARE AHEAD BY 114

There were 320 births and 206 deaths in Connellsville during 1916, according to the published monthly reports of Miss Clara Baker, deputy registrar of vital statistics. The annual competition between those mythical racers, the Stork and the Grim Reaper, thus ends with the Stork 114 ahead.

In Connellsville township, the Grim Reaper won, the death numbering 80 and the births 28. In that part of Bullskin township included in Miss Baker's district there were 40 births and 24 deaths.

August was the record month for births in Connellsville, there being 42. In June there were only 14. In March, 1916, 31 residents of Connellsville passed away, the largest number for any one month. In November there were only six deaths.

In 1915 there were 340 births and 188 deaths, 20 more births and 20 less deaths than in 1916.

MORE CHURCHES TO JOIN IN CAMPAIGN; START NEXT WEEK

United Brethren and United Presbyterian Making Preparations.

OTHER MEETINGS CONTINUE

Cold weather does not have much effect on the attendance; Rev. Thomas A. Gibson of Verona to conduct meeting in U. P. Church.

A number of churches of the city, which did not start evangelistic meetings this week, will join in the general campaign next week. Active preparations are being made by the United Presbyterian and United Brethren congregations and pastors. Meetings are already under way at the First Presbyterian, Methodist, Episcopal, First Baptist and South Connellsville Evangelical churches.

Rev. Thomas A. Gibson of Verona, who conducted the meetings at the United Presbyterian Church, assisted by the pastor, Rev. W. J. Eberhart, a chorus of 50 voices will sing. A rehearsal of the singers was held last night. Prayer meetings in preparation for the revival at this church will be held tonight at the following places:

South Connellsville, Mrs. Lottie Gilpin, with J. A. McKee as leader; South Side, Rev. W. J. Eberhart, with Rev. Eberhart as leader; West Side, Mrs. John Fehrer, with Jay Stouffer as leader; North Side, W. H. Francis, with Mr. Francis as leader; East Side, Mrs. J. R. Cyphers, with F. R. Yoder as leader. The meetings start at 7:45 o'clock.

Despite the cold weather a large congregation was present at the Methodist Episcopal Church last night. Prior to the meeting a song service was held, led by a chorus of singers who were in the Bob Jones choir. Rev. G. L. Richardson presided on "The Business of the King." His subject tonight will be "The Royal Invitation."

A community prayer meeting was held this morning at the home of B. F. Smith in South Connellsville, with a chorus of 50 voices. This is the announcement of an all-night prayer meeting at 9 o'clock Saturday night. Rev. Richardson says that nothing can be accomplished without prayer and invites all Christian people of the city to participate in this service.

A very successful meeting was held at the Dunbar Methodist Protestant Church last evening, Rev. A. B. Calver of Pittsburgh presiding on the subject of "Seeking the Lost." A big delegation from Connellsville was present and 10 converts were gained. It was easily the best service of the series.

The choir of the Connellsville Methodist Protestant Church will be present at the meeting tonight, and will sing special numbers in addition to leading the congregational singing.

On Sunday afternoon there will be a big mass meeting in the church at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. Calver will then give his famous address on "Why Homes Are Unhappy." This is expected to be a feature of the Calver campaign in Dunbar.

The meeting at the First Presbyterian Church last night was unusually well attended. Rev. A. B. Allison preached on "The Greatest Gift in the World."

BIG VERDICT IN THE WRIGHT CASE

Jury Awards $16,406.88 to Anna Corcoran; Other Awards Made.

Special to The Courier.

UNIONTOWN, Jan. 12.—A verdict for $16,406.88, the full amount of a claim of $10,000 with interest, was awarded by a jury yesterday in the suit of Anna Corcoran, administratrix of the estate of Joseph Wright, deceased, against Gertrude Cochran, executrix of the will of W. H. Cochran, deceased. The plaintiff alleged that the amount was due her on account of a special parol agreement made between Messrs. Wright and Cochran regarding the sale of stock in the Cosmopolitan Coal & Coke Company, a West Virginia corporation.

William White, 12 years old, of Mesmore, and his mother, Mrs. Reathy Barnhart, were awarded $1,000 damages yesterday afternoon in a suit against German township for alleged injuries received by the boy last January 31 when he was thrown from a horse into a hole in the Mesmore road. The boy was riding horseback, it is said, and the horse fell into a cave-in or hole in the road evidently caused by the removal of coal from underneath the highway.

In an effort to extricate himself from the hole, he was kicked and trampled by the horse.

A verdict for the plaintiff for $25 was awarded late yesterday in the case of George Ozanic and Annie Ozanic against Steve Mozar for slander. A verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $248 was returned in the case of Tony Ross against Domeneck Mash, who, it was claimed, bought a horse and sold from Ross, and neglected to pay for them.

Following a general discussion of pneumonia last night at the regular meeting of the Young Medical Society Club held at the home of Dr. W. J. Bailey in Isabella, Road, each doctor decided to keep a record of the number of pneumonia cases treated during the coming year. At the close of the year statistics will be compiled to show the number of cases which proved fatal in Connellsville and vicinity.

The discussion was presided over by a most interesting talk on "X-ray Diagnosis," by Dr. John J. Singer, a prominent physician of Greensburg. Dr. Singer is a former member of the Young Medical Society. He left Connellsville about 11 years ago to locate in Greensburg.

Previous to the scientific meeting a dinner was served. Marguerite formed the centerpiece. All members but Dr. H. J. Belt of Dawson, who is in St. Petersburg, Fla., attended. Dr. J. L. Junk was a guest. The next meeting will be held at the home of Dr. G. W. Gallagher of North Sixth street, West Side.

STRUCK BY TRAIN

Adam Zorn Has Narrow Escape at Dickerson Run Crossing.

Adam Zorn, of Lower Tyrone township, 53 years old, had a narrow escape from serious injury last night when a one-horse team which he was driving was struck by a Pittsburgh & Lake Erie road train. The accident occurred shortly after 6 o'clock at the Dickerson Run crossing.

Mr. Zorn resides on a farm near Dawson and was evening his sheep milk on the West Penn street when he was struck by the train at 6:15 o'clock. "As it was just dusk when the accident occurred, Mr. Zorn did not see the approaching train. He was thrown from the wagon. The horse took fright and ran for about a half a mile before it could be stopped. Mr. Zorn escaped with slight bruises. The wagon was badly damaged.

Mr. Zorn was taken to a hospital near Dawson and is recovering from his injuries. The train was operated by the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie road.

Ladies of Maccabees Participate In the Ceremonies; Growth of Maccabees in Connellsville Favorably Commented on by Great Commander.

The Knights of the Maccabees' new home on South Pittsburgh street, was formally dedicated, with speaking ceremonies and installation of officers last evening. W. E. Blaney of Pittsburgh, great commander, was the principal speaker. Dr. A. J. Colborn and Attorney S. R. Goldsmith also made short addresses. John T. Wurtz acted as chairman, introducing the speakers.

The address of welcome was made by Attorney S. R. Goldsmith. He recalled the rough sailing the Maccabees have had in the past and said the way the organization is beginning to prosper was a credit to the city. Mr. Goldsmith concluded with a mention of the present membership campaign being conducted by the Maccabees, saying that it should result in putting the lodge on a firm foundation for an even more successful career. Dr. Colborn followed him with a short address.

The Ladies of the Maccabees, now known as the Woman's Benefit Association of the Maccabees, were well represented. A short address was made by Mrs. E. C. Stevens, record keeper. She told of the interest the women are taking in the work and stated that the membership had increased 84 in the past year and has passed the 150 mark.

Eighteen officers were installed by Great Commander W. E. Blaney of Pittsburgh. Each was administered the oath of office and given his badge. The duties of each was outlined to him by the installing officer.

Following the installation of officers, Mr. Blaney spoke on the Maccabees and their work. He recalled the failure of the Y. M. C. A. here, which building the Maccabees took over and have converted into the present home. He told the members of the lodge that unless they gave as much interest in the lodge as they did their business, it would also fail. Mr. Blaney himself is a member of 22 fraternities.

A large amount of debt has been removed from the building which was taken over by the Maccabees about a year ago.

The officers installed last evening were: Past commander, J. P. Truder; commander, Dr. M. H. Koehler; lieutenant commander, John T. Wurtz; record keeper, H. G. Patton; chaplain, J. W. Struble; physician, Dr. A. J. Colborn; attorney, S. R. Goldsmith; sergeant, Harry Asber; master at arms, James Murphy; first master of guard, J. J. Fry; second master of guard, Martin Rottler; sentinel, A. Leichter; picket, James Aris; planist, John Brown; relief committee, C. A. Knight, trustees, M. E. Frye, Charles Fripplert, and Dr. M. H. Koehler.

After the dedicatory program, refreshments were served and a dance was held.

Lawrence Sefton of Pittsburgh, great lieutenant, commander, who was to have been present, was detained on account of sickness, and W. L. Callahan, deputy great commander, another speaker also on the program, was out in the state and unable to get here in time for the services.

ATTENDS FIREMEN'S MEETING

Chief DeBolt Represents Connellsville at Braddock Gathering.

Fire Chief W. E. DeBolt was in Braddock last evening attending a meeting of the board of control of the Western Pennsylvania Volunteer Firemen's Association, of which he is first vice president.

One of the important matters brought up for discussion was a bill that the firemen will put before the legislature, concerning foreign insurance. At the present time if a policy for this city is written up by a foreign agent 2% per cent is paid to the state, half of which goes to the firemen of the city. What the volunteer association wants to do is to have a bill passed giving the city for which the policy is written, the full benefit of the 2% instead of splitting it with the state.

REDUCED FARE TO STATE FARM SHOW AT HARRISBURG

All Railroads Will Sell Tickets to Farmers at Two Cents a Mile.

EXHIBIT OPENS JANUARY 22

Indications Are That a Great Crowd Will Attend Best Corn, Fruit, Vegetable, Butter, Milk and Wool in State to be on Display January 22-26

Thousands of farmers from all sections of the state are expected to attend the State Corn, Fruit, Vegetable, Butter, Milk and Wool Show, and the meetings of the various agricultural associations to be held at Harrisburg, January 22 to 26, and the week promises to be the most important from an agricultural standpoint in the history of the industry in the state.

The show itself will be a monstrous event with corn, fruit, vegetables, butter, milk and wool from all sections and there will be much rivalry for the cash prizes which have been tendered for the winners in the various classes. The county fairs will determine the champion corn, fruit, vegetable, butter, milk and wool in the state, but the competition promises to be very keen in all classes. Already hundreds of ears of corn, and many boxes of apples have been received by the Pennsylvania department of Agriculture for exhibition at the show. The apples have been placed in cold storage to be preserved until show time.

Secretary of Agriculture Charles E. Patton has arranged with the passenger department of the Truck Line Association which comprises the principal railroads of the state for reduced rates on the railroads during the week of the show at Harrisburg. A rate of two cents a mile in each direction with a minimum of $1 for the round trip from points in Pennsylvania, going and returning via same route only has been obtained. Special tickets should be asked for, and they will be sent and be good in going to Harrisburg January 21 to 24 and returning no as to travel original starting point not later than January 27.

From all sections of the state word has been received at Harrisburg that large delegations are forming to attend the show. The Department of Public Instruction is arranging to bring two boys from each of the vocational schools to participate in a Boys' Core Judging Contest. The public spirited citizens of the places in which these vocational schools are located are arranging for the transportation of the boys.

Simple Laxative Remedy Best for Constipation

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin Gave Satisfaction. When Nothing Else Would.

Nearly every one, at one time or another, suffers from constipation, or inactive bowels, and one of the few conclusions upon which the doctors agree is that regularity of the bowels is an essential to good health.

In the family medicine chest of most well-ordered households will be found one or more of the various remedies recommended for the relief of constipation. In the majority of homes today the combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is recommended as the standard laxative. Druggists everywhere report a constantly increasing demand for this splendid remedy which is sold for fifty cents a bottle.

Mr. James Ash, 102 Green St., Cumberland, Md., wrote to Dr. Caldwell that he found Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin the most effective remedy for constipation he had ever used and that he always keeps a bottle of it on hand for use when necessary.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a mild laxative, and does not gripe or

NO INQUIRY

Committee Decides Not to Recommend Further "Leak" Investigation.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Over the protest of Republican members, the Democratic majority of the House rules committee today voted to report adversely Representative Wood's privileged resolution for a congressional inquiry into the charge of Thomas W. Lawson that there was a "leak" to Wall street on President Wilson's peace note.

Democrats and Republicans disagreed as to the effect of the committee's action toward the Lawson contempt charge. Republicans say he was absolved by a vote of the majority and that the whole investigation is over.

Chairman Henry insists that the special sub-committee to deal with Lawson's refusal to answer questions propounded by the committee and his publication of "leak" charges in newspapers still is in existence and may take some action.

FIRST APPEAL

Filed in Fayette From Award of the Workmen's Compensation Board.

The first appeal to be filed in the Fayette county courts by a defendant company against the award of the Pennsylvania workmen's compensation board was that of the Luzerne Coal & Coke Company, and the Employers' Liability Assurance Company from the appeal of Mr. and Mrs. John Marcy.

The appeal was filed by the firm of Dalzell, Fisher and Hawkins, of Pittsburgh.

The appeal holds that the compensation board erred in affirming the award of Referee Thomas J. Dunn on the ground that it was an error that the defendant, Frank Marcy, met death by electrocution and that the claimants were dependent upon the deceased for support.

MOTHER OF NINE CHILDREN

Able to do Housework by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Springfield, Mass.—"After the birth of my ninth baby I was in a weak, run down condition, had pains in my left side, so I would faint often. My doctor advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so, and gained in strength so I can now do all my own house work and I hope you may publish my experience with your Compound for the benefit of other mothers."—MADAME EUGENE BERNARD, 568 Main Street, Springfield, Mass.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so successful in overcoming women's ills because it contains the pure, strengthening properties of good old fashioned roots and herbs, which act on the female organism. Women from all parts of the country are continually testifying to its strengthening, curative influence.

If you want special advice write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read, and answered by women only.

SOCIAL and PERSONAL

The August and January Divisions of the Ladies' Circle of the Christian Church held a large and successful birthday party and entertainment last evening in Pritchard's hall. The affair was planned by the captains of the divisions, Mrs. Ross P. Lytle and Mrs. E. P. Jones and was a grand success, quite a nice aim being realized for the benefit of the church. The large hall presented a scene of great beauty, tall vases of flowers of various colors being effectively placed throughout the room. An artistic arrangement of Christmas greens adorned the walls. The entertainment was thoroughly enjoyed by the large audience.

The program rendered was as follows: instrumental selection, Pauline Koser; readings, Virginia Jones; living birthday cake, Louise Solson, Helen Marietta, Hilda Mae Bonford, Guinevere Buckner, Frances Louise Adams, Martha Reese, Mary Louise McDonald, Dorothy Duff, Anna Mae Templeton, Donald Solson, Catherine McGarity, Doreen Smith, Clara Herwick, and Melvin Solson; birthday reading, Mrs. E. P. Jones; rose hoop drill, Mary Louise McDonald, Catherine Herwick, Louise Schell, Gladys Strickler, Louise Solson, Dorothy Duff, Frances Louise Adams, Virginia Jones, Irene McGuire, Martha Reese, Guinevere Buckner, Catherine McGarity, Ruth Humbert, Ida Belle Fenton, Clark Boyd, Donatus Solson, George Kincaid, Richard Kincaid, Harry Kincaid, William Beatty, Charles Koser, and Milton Munk; vocal solo, Miss Mildred Miller; "Sweetest Story Ever Told," Lida Enos, assisted by Clara Herwick, Anna Mae Templeton, Mary Louise McDonald, Catherine McGarity, Irene McGuire, Ruth Humbert, George Kincaid, Clark Boyd, Charles Koser, William Beatty, Donatus Solson; "Silent Night," Mary Louise McDonald; "Lullaby," Martha Reese; "Frosty Baby," Ellen Elizabeth, Margaret, "Kissed," Louise Adams; "The Rose Dream," Blodwin Smith; "Daybreak," Lydia Enos; "Noon," Irene McGuire, "Evening," chorus; Living pictures, "Daybreak," Clara Herwick; "Noon," Virginia Jones; "Evening," Gladys Strickler; "Night," Mary Louise McDonald; "A New Juliet," Ida Belle Fenton; "Give Us Peace," Miss Lottie Barnhart; remarks, Rev. ### Resinol Surely Heals Sick Skins

When you know physicians have prescribed Resinol for over 20 years in the treatment of eczema and other itching, burning, unsightly skin eruptions, and have written thousands of reports saying: "The result it gave was marvelous in one of the worst cases of eczema," etc., etc., doesn't it make you feel "This is the treatment I can rely on for my skin-trouble?"

When Resinol Ointment touches itching skin, the itching usually stops and healing begins. With the aid of Resinol Soap, it almost always clears away eczema, ringworm, pimples, or other distressing eruptions quickly, leaving the skin clear and healthy. Sold by all druggists.

Use Resinol Soap regularly and you will be astonished to find how quickly it soothes and clears the pores, and leaves the complexion clear and fresh.

BRONCHITIS SUFFERER. Cured by a Simple Remedy.

Columbus, Ga.—"I am telling everybody what Vinol has done for my husband. He had a bronchial cough, the system was run down and I felt sure he would die. His father insisted on his trying Vinol, and I am so thankful he did, because it cured his cough and built him up. My doctor highly recommends it and said he could not take anything better." Mrs. Thomas Monk.

Vinol, you know, contains beef and cod liver oils, iron and manganese phosphates, and glycerophosphates. It enriches and revitalizes the blood and conveys to the system the vital elements necessary to strengthen the body and throw off the disease. That is the reason it was so successful in Mr. Monk's case.

Anyone in Connelville who has bronchitis, a chronic cough, or needs building up, may try a bottle of Vinol, with the understanding that his money will be returned if he is not satisfied.

Laughey Drug Co., Connelville. Vinol is sold in the West Side by Fred H. Harmsen.

Carefully Treat Children's Colds

Neglect of children's colds often lays the foundation of serious lung trouble. On the other hand, it is harmful to continually dose delicate little stomachs with internal medicines or to keep the children always indoors.

Plenty of fresh air in the bedroom and a good application of Vick's "Vapo-Rub" Salve over throat and chest at the first sign of trouble, will keep the little chaps free from colds without injuring their digestion. 25c, 50c, or $1.00.

FIRE AT PERRY. Oil House Completely Destroyed by Blaze of Unknown Origin.

PERRYVILLE, Jan. 12.—The oil house of the Perry Manufacturing company's brick plant was completely destroyed by fire yesterday evening between 6 and 7 o'clock.

How the fire started is not known, but it is believed that some one entered the oil house with a lighted torch, which came in contact with the oil, and that an explosion and the conflagration followed.

The Perry fire department was quick to respond, but the men were unable to save the building, which rapidly burned to the ground. No outside aid was requested, for the building was doomed from the start.

The fire was quite spectacular, and a large crowd was attracted to the scene in spite of the extreme cold weather.

Reception For Newlyweds. Mr. and Mrs. George E. Moore of Dawson, whose marriage was a recent event, were tendered a large reception and miscellaneous shower last night in the Presbyterian Church at Dawson by the Woman's Work Society of the church. About 100 persons attended and presented Mr. and Mrs. Moore with handsome and useful gifts.

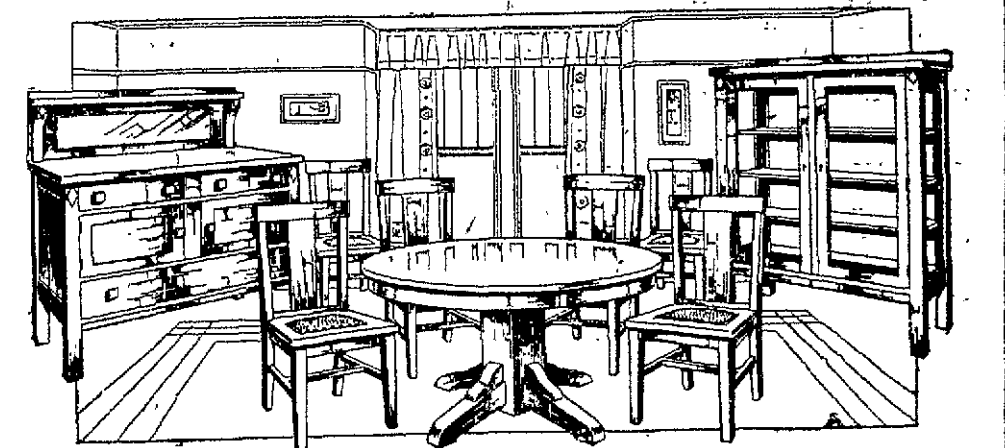

Rev. W. B. Purnell, the pastor, spoke, and Mr. Moore responded. Two vocal solos were rendered by Mrs. J. S. Laughey. Refreshments were served.

TIME IS MONEY. Prompt Service at the Bank is Appreciated by Everybody.

There's a Simple Charm in This $69 DINING ROOM SUITE

You Buy Quality When You Buy This Suite

Every Piece is of Solid Oak

This design is a simple one—most of the effort has been put into getting materials that will last and craftsmanship of the highest type. Every piece is large, and just massive enough to give it a sturdiness that will make it stand all kinds of wear.

The finish is a plain one that shows to fine advantage the natural grain of the oak. All the little details are well taken care of. The knobs are on to stay on. The hinges are strong ones, and will not snap off. All doors and drawers work easily.

BURIAL OF "BUFFALO BILL"

His White Horse to Lead the Cortage on Sunday.

DENVER, Jan. 12.—Federal troops from Fort Dodge will participate Sunday in the funeral of William F. Cody (Buffalo Bill), who died here Wednesday. The detachment will consist of several hundred men and a band. It was said by an army officer last night. Members of the Colorado National Guard also will be in the cortage. These honors, with others to be determined later, will be accorded Colonel Cody because of his rank as chief of civilian scouts attached to the United States army.

In the cortage will be led the white horse which was the dead scout's favorite for many years. On the saddle will be hung the Colonel's revolvers and holsters.

Licensed to Wed. Frank M. Best of Smock and Nellie Bethesda Shaver of Salem, Clayton County; John Reahly of Whitest and Mary J. Best of Perryopolis, were granted a marriage license in Uniontown yesterday.

Items of Interest From Nearby Towns

UNIONTOWN, Jan. 12.—The complaint of Attorney Harry W. Byrne against the Fayette County Gas Company which was heard last February before the Public Service Commission has become a matter of statewide importance, according to word received by Attorney Byrne from the commission. The case was decided by the commission and the gas company directed to file a new schedule of tariffs. A rehearing was asked for by the gas company, and an argument was held on the motion for a rehearing.

Attorney Byrne recently wrote to the commission to ascertain what was being done, and was advised in a letter he has just received that it is the intention of the commission to arrange for a conference in the near future of various public utilities which may have in effect rules regarding deposits and bonds similar to the one of the Fayette County Gas Company. Attorney Byrne was advised that pending such hearing the commission will hold open a determination of the questions presented in the argument for a rehearing.

UNITED CHURCH IS REMEMBERED BY PRIEST
The will of Reverend John Matejick, late of Mount Pleasant township, was probated Tuesday and disposes of an estate valued at $10,000, the amount of life insurance carried.

The sum of $1,000 is bequeathed to the St. Florian Slavish Catholic Church of Union, Pa. The house keepers at the time of his death are each to receive the sum of $400, and six months extra wages at $1 per week. Provisions were made for masses for the repose of his soul and those of his mother and father. All the clothing and personal effects of the testator are to be distributed among the poor. The household furniture is to become the property of the parish. Rev. Father P. Sibik of Uniontown, is named as executor.

year at his home in Mount Pleasant, where he had resided for many years, the Mount Pleasant Journal states that among the messages of sympathy received by the family was a telegram from Governor Brumbaugh sent thru Assemblyman Goldsmith, reading: "Kindly convey my sincere sympathy to the bereaved family of my dear friend, Jacob Myers, whose loss is not only personal to me, but to everyone who loves a good, upright Christian citizen." In the campaign of 1914, when Governor Brumbaugh spoke in Latrobe, the aged Mr. Myers came over from Mount Pleasant to hear him. They were friends of years ago.

PRASE FOR SALTICK

Supervisors Commended for Abandoning Expensive Road.

The State Highway News says: "The supervisors of Saltlick township, Fayette county, propose to vacate 1,340 lineal feet of the Back Creek Road and to open 245 feet of new road to take the place of that portion vacated. The supervisors are to be commended for this kind of foresight, as they have eliminated 1,095 feet of road very expensive to maintain. The vacation of this piece of road was particularly advisable because six bridges are located on it whereon on the 245 feet of new road, only one bridge will be required."

"The Bureau of Township Highways made the survey for this work and desires to take this opportunity to recommend that other townships make a study of their road locations and plan to improve them. The Bureau will be glad to co-operate with the supervisors in this work."

MORE CEMENT

Was Shipped in 1916 by 7,500,000 Barrels Than in Previous Year.

Shipments of Portland cement in the United States in 1916 approximated 94,608,000 barrels, an increase over 1915 of more than 7½ million barrels, the heaviest shipments in the history of the industry.

Production, while it did not keep pace with shipments, reached a total of about 91,394,000 barrels, an increase of more than 5 million barrels over 1915, while stocks fell off more than 3 million barrels, according to estimates by Ernest F. Burehard of the United States Geological Survey, Department of the Interior. Prices averaged higher and trade conditions were generally better than in 1915, and the outlook for 1917 is reported as good.

At the Theatres.

SOISSON THEATRE.

"ESSANAY CHAPLIN REVIEW OF 1916."—Will be the attraction at the Soisson Theatre today, featuring Charlie Chaplin in five reels. It is the story of his plays of 1916 woven into one five reel comedy. "Giant Powder," a Bison two reel mingling drama with Edith Johnson, Fred Church and Ivor McAllen in the principal roles. To make this Bison drama Director Henry McLean took his company to Catalina Island. They filmed the scenes of the picture, blew up a large section of the island and returned home none the worse for their adventure. "Giant Powder" in the story of a mine owner who sends his only son to the camp to "make a man of himself." He tries to fulfill his father's expectations—not so much on his father's account, perhaps, as because of his wish to stand well in the eyes of "Sandy" McLean, the storekeeper's daughter. "The Tale of a Turk," a Joker one reel comedy with the well known comedian Henry Gale. It is the story of a bespectacled husband who is sent to buy a turkey. Tomorrow the World Film presents Alice Brady in the five reel drama, "Bought and Paid For." Amusement seekers above all other classes of people are in search of new and novel things—such as the average audience. The characters of this play is universal. The heroine is a poor girl who is struggling to make an honest living. The hero is a man of unlimited resources. The strong comedy parts are characters who are a typical middle class couple. The gripping story of the piece is so constructed that you will laugh with one eye and cry with the other. This is really an unusually strong sermon which is made easier for us to receive because of the manner of its handling. For future happiness and contentment be sure and see this piece.

THE PARAMOUNT.

"THE YELLOW PAWN"—A Jesse L. Lasky production with Wallace Reid and Cleo Ridgley in the leading roles, and "The Girl and The Car," the last episode of "The Scarlet Runner," featuring Earl Williams, are today's attractions. The cruel, merciless methods of the third degree for criminals have been raised to the great power by the modern detective and police heads. The amount of labor they will go through to entrap, ensnare and bring forth a confession to the person they believe guilty, is shown in the most graphic manner in "The Yellow Pawn." The play has to do with the intrigues of a district attorney, jealous of his wife's infatuation for a young artist, and the methods he employs in a vain endeavor to send an innocent man to the gallows, and how while furthering his nefarious crime, he loses his life, just as he is about to take the life of another, makes a very interesting and powerful story. The picture is a modern society drama dealing with studio life in New York City. In the cast supporting the two stars are such distinguished players as Tom Forman, William Conklin, C. H. Geldert, George Webb, Olive Golden, and others. Tomorrow "The Criminal," featuring William Desmond and Clara Williams will be seen. Headline night scenes in New York's "ghetto," are announced as interesting features in "The Criminal," as is the devotion of an Italian organ grinder to a monkey. Monday, the first chapter of the wonderful Metro serial, "The Great Secret," with Beverly Bayne and Francis X. Bushman, will be shown. In addition to "The Black Butterfly," a powerful Metro drama, featuring Madame Petrova.

THE ARCADE.

Crane Wilbur's "Love Liar" at the Arcade yesterday showed many men of genius, but of eccentric mind, exert a seemingly hypnotic influence over women. It explained the motives which cause women to rave over Paderewski and to mob and kiss Colonel Hobson. The mounting of the play was elaborate, the settings being beautiful and the girls playing society ladies looked the part and were handsomely costumed. The new for the two-reel and tapt, the latest society dances, were gracefully executed. A two reel feature comedy, "Intoxinating Hubby," was well played.

Today the Thanhouser company offers Barbara Gilroy in "Her Father's Gold," a story of the mines of the west. Charlie Chaplin will deliver "The Knockout" in two reels, and a

SAGE AND SULPHUR DARKENS GRAY HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Restore Color, Gloss and Attractiveness.

Almost every one knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, for about 50 cents.

Don't say! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darken your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delicate toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Adv.

special show will start at 1:15 for the convenience of the school children. A bell will ring at 5:30 and at 6 o'clock calling their attention to the time. A clock has been installed temporarily pending the arrival of the big naval observatory clock which will be corrected hourly from Washington. The Chaplin display in the lobby of the theatre has attracted much attention all morning. Robert Bush of the Arcade staff, is the author. He has been in the moving picture since the first day it started in Conneltsville 17 years ago.

Tomorrow Anna Little playing the role of a likeable boy, and Francis X. Bushman, will appear in Kenneth B. Clark's gripping story of the west, "The Land o' Lizards."

Tuesday the Arcade will start on a new contract which brings the biggest stars in pictures. Tuesday, Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne will be in the play that made them famous, "Graustark." Wednesday, J. Warren Kerrigan in a first release picture Friday Henry Walthall and Edna Mayo

ORPHEUM.

Hundreds of persons who heretofore have doubted that the horrors of "white slavery" are as black as they are painted and who have held their doubts effectively dispelled after seeing the "World's Traffic in Young Girls" pictures at the Orpheum theatre this week.

Such doubters have come away with a full realization of the ever-present dangers lurking in the most unexpected places for young girls and hoping to be able to warn their children, friends, sweethearts where and how such dangers can be avoided.

The pictures which were taken during the recent campaign of the Illinois Vigilance Association to rid Chicago of white slavers, show actual scenes found by the investigators. The pictures are explained as they are shown by J. Hillary Martin, eminent lecturer and sociologist.

This picture is the attraction at this theatre today and tomorrow.

PROSECUTION SCORES

Permitted to Show Early Attacks By Newspaper as Evidence of Malice.

Judge Thomas J. Praythor of Crawford county, who is presiding over the trial of Alfred E. Jones against the News Publishing Company for $15,000 damages for alleged libel, at Uniontown yesterday, admitted testimony in the case of alleged libellous news articles published in the Daily News Standard beyond the statute of limitations. Judge Praythor ruled that testimony of the alleged attacks made by the newspaper upon Mr. Jones more than a year before the suit was filed could be introduced for the purpose of showing malice. When such testimony was offered Wednesday afternoon objection was raised by counsel for the newspaper and the decision of the court was withheld.

Mr. Jones testified that he is an attorney at the Fayette county bar and formerly was district attorney in this county. He was solicitor for the borough of Uniontown in 1911 and 1916. He produced copies of the News Standard which he said he had purchased, and from these papers was read to the jury articles in which Mr. Jones was accused of privately representing policemen in Uniontown in proceedings against Burgess R. D. Warman against the borough's interests. Attorney Jones denied that he was employed privately by the policemen and testified that he never received any fees from them.

"A Warning to Young Girls"

A Powerful Play of Today's Greatest Problem

"The worst evil which destroys character and life is vice. Every boy and girl should understand the dangers, and be prepared to meet them. Study this picture. It represents the truth. It shows methods employed to trap young girls into a vicious life and emphasizes the necessity of young people being told of the dangers ahead. It's a great moral sermon."—Arthur Burrage Farwell, head of Chicago Law and Order League.

NAN of MUSIC MOUNTAIN

By Frank H. Spearman
Author of Whispering Smith

That was all. The bartender breathed and looked again. Men were crowding the road through the back doors. De Spain, at the cigar case, looking intently into the rainy street, lighted from the corner by a dingy lamp. The four men near him had not stirred, but, startled and alert, the right hand of each covered the butt of a revolver. De Spain moved first. While the pool players, hunched up the back doors to escape, he spoke to, without looking at the bartender, "What's the matter with your curtains?" he demanded, something his revolver and pointing with an explosive to the big sheet of plate glass. "Is this the way you build up business for the house?"

Those close enough to the window saw that the bare pane had been cut, just above the middle, by two bullet holes. Curious men examined both fractures when De Spain and Lefever had left the saloon. The first hole was the larger. It had been made by a high-powered rifle; the second was from a bullet of a Colt's revolver; it was rimmed as a mark of a gun-play that the two were hardly an inch apart.

In the street a few minutes later, De Spain and Lefever encountered Scott, who, with his back hunched up, his cheap black hat pulled well down over his ears, his hands in his trousers pockets and his thin coat collar modestly turned against the drizzling rain, was walking across the parkway from the station.

"Sassoon is in town," exclaimed Lefever with certainty after he had told the story. He waited for the Indian's opinion. Scott, looking through the water dripping from the brim of his soiled derby, gave it in one word. "Was," he answered with a quiet smile.

"Let's make sure," insisted Lefever. "Supposing he might be in town yet. Bob, where is he?"

Scott glanced up the street through the rain lighted by yellow lamps on the obscure corners, and looked down the street toward the black reaches of the river. "If he's here, you'll find him in one of two places. Tension's—"

"But we've just come from Tension's," objected Lefever.

"I mean, across the street, upstairs; or at Jim Kitchen's barn. If he was hurried to get away," added Scott reflectively, "he would slip upstairs over there as the nearest place to hide; if he had time he would make for the barn, where it would be easy to catch his rifle."

Lefever took the lapel of the scout's coat in his hand. "Then you, Bob, go out and see if you can get the whole story. I'll take the barn. Let Tension's go over to Tension's and wait at the head of the stairs till we can get back there."

De Spain found no difficulty in locating the flight of marble stairs that led to the gambling rooms. It was the only lighted entrance in the side street. No light shone at the head of the stairs, but a doorway on the left opened into a large, room, brilliantly lighted by chandeliers. Around three sides of this room were placed the keno layouts, roulette wheels, faro tables and minor gambling devices. Off the casino itself small cardrooms opened.

The big room was well filled for a wet night. De Spain took a place in shadow near one side of the doorway facing the street door and at times looked within for the loosely jointed frame, crooked neck, tumbled forehead, and malevolent face of the cattle thief. He could find in the usual figures scattered about the room none resembling the one he sought.

A man entering the place spoke to another coming out. De Spain overheard the exchange. "Duke got rid of his steers yet?" asked the first.

"Not yet."

"Saw game."

"The old man sold quite a bunch this time. The way he's playing now he'll last twenty-four hours."

De Spain, following the newcomer, strided into the room and, beginning at one end, proceeded in leisurely fashion from table to wheel and table to table inspecting the players. Few looked at him and none paid any attention to his presence. At Tension's table the idlers crowded about one player whom De Spain, without getting closer in among the onlookers than he wanted to, noted at once.

Tension, at De Spain's approach, happened to look up wearily. "He spoke in an inquisitive tone across the intervening heads: 'What happened to your red tie, Henry?'"

De Spain put up his hand to his neck, and looked down at a loose end hanging from his soft cravat. It had been torn by the bullet meant for his head. He turned the end inside his collar. "A Calabasas man tried to untie it a few minutes ago. He missed the knot."

Tension did not hear the answer. He had reverted to his game. De Spain moved on and, after making the round of the scattered tables, walked again through the doorway, only to meet, as she stood hesitating and apparently about to enter the room, Nan Morgan.

CHAPTER VII.

The Gambling Room.

They confronted each other blankly. To Nan's confusion was added her embarrassment at her personal appearance. Her hat was wet, and the thin shoulders of her khaki jacket and the front of her silk blouse showed the wilting effect of the rain. In one hand she clutched wet riding gloves. Her cheeks, either from the cold rain or mental stress, fairly burned, and her eyes, which had seemed when he encountered her, fired with some resolve, changed to an expression of dismay.

This was hardly for more than an instant. Then her lips tightened, her eyes dropped, and she took a step to one side to avoid De Spain and enter the gambling room. He stepped in, looking at her. She looked up, furious. "What do you mean?" she exclaimed with indignation. "Let me pass."

The sound of her voice restored her self-possession. He made no move to get out of her way, indeed he rather pointedly continued to obstruct her. "You've made a mistake, I think," he said evenly.

"I have not," she replied with resentment. "Let me pass."

"I think you have. You don't know where you are going," he persisted, his eyes bent uncompromisingly on hers.

She showed increasing irritation at his attempt to expel her. "I know perfectly well where I am going," she retorted with heat.

"Then you know," he returned steadily, "that you've no business to enter this place."

His opposition seemed only to anger her. "I know where I have business. I need no introductions from you as to what places I enter. You are impertinent. Insulting. Let me pass!"

His stubborn opposition showed no signs of weakening before her resolve. "One question," he said, ignoring her angry words: "Have you ever been in these rooms before?"

He thought she quailed the least bit before his searching look. She even hesitated as to what to say. But if her eyes fell momentarily it was only to collect herself. "Yes," she answered, looking up unflinchingly.

Her resolute eyes supported her defiant word and openly challenged his interference, but he met her once more quietly. "I am sorry to hear it," he rejoined. "But that won't make any difference. You can't go in tonight."

"I will go in," she cried.

"No," he returned slowly, "you are not going in—not at least, while I am here."

They stood immovable. He tried to reason her out of her determination. She resented every word he uttered.

"You are most impudent," she exclaimed. "You are interfering in something that is no concern of yours. You have no right to act in this outrageous way. If you don't stand aside I'll call for help."

"Nan!" De Spain spoke her name suddenly and threateningly. His words fell fast and he checked her for an instant with his vehemence. "We met in the gap a week ago. I said I was telling you the exact truth. Did I do it?"

"I don't care what you said or what you did."

"Answer me," he said sharply; "did I tell you the truth?"

"I don't know or care—"

"Yes, you do know—"

"What you say or do—"

"I told you the truth then, and I am telling it now. I will never see you enter a gambling room as long as I live."

De Spain raised his voice to match exactly the tone of the inquiry. "So I'll know you next time."

Logan pushed back his chair. As he turned his legs from under the table to rise, a hard knock on his shoulder. He looked up and saw the brown face and feeble smile of Scott. Logan with his nearest foot kicked Sandusky. The big fellow looked up and around. Either by chance or in following the sound of the last voice, his glance fell on De Spain. De Spain's eye bent steadily on him, answered with a tone neither of apology nor pronounced offense: "I am looking at you."

Lefever hitched at his trousers cheerily and, stepping away from De Spain, took a position just behind the dealer. "What are you looking at me for?" demanded Logan insolently.

he ran into Scott. "Did you get the story?" demanded De Spain.

"Part of it."

"Was it Sassoon?"

Scott shook his head. "Don't Sandusky. That man Sandusky,"—Bob smiled a sickly smile—"doesn't miss very often. He was bothered a little by his friends being all around you."

The two regarded each other for a moment in silence. "Why," asked De Spain, bolting a little, "should that d—d bulking brute try to blow my head off just now?"

Only for the good of the order, Henry," grunted the scout.

"Nice job. Let him pick out for me," muttered De Spain grimly, "standing up in these Sleepy Cat barrooms to be shot at. Is he the fellow John calls the butcher?"

"That's what everybody calls him, I guess."

The two rejoined Lefever at the head of the stairs and the three discussed the news. Lefever seemed more serious when he heard the report. Scott, when asked where Sandusky now was, nodded toward the big room in front of them.

Lefever looked toward the gambling tables. "Well, go in and look at him," he turned to Scott to invite his comment on the proposal. "Think twice, John," suggested the Indian. "If there's any trouble in a crowd like that, somebody that has no interest in De Spain or Sandusky is pretty sure to get hurt."

"I don't mean to start anything," explained Lefever. "I only want De Spain to look at him."

But sometimes things start themselves. Lefever found Sandusky at a faro table. At his side sat his partner, Logan. Three other players, together with the onlookers, and the dealer—whose tumbled hair fell partly over the visor that protected his eyes from the glare of the overhead lights—made up the group. The table stood next to that where Tension, white-faced and impassive under the heat and light, held the chair.

Lefever took a position at one end of the table, where he faced Sandusky, and De Spain, just behind his shoulder, had a chance to look the two Calabasas men closely over. Sandusky again impressed him as a powerful man, who, beyond an ample stomach, carried his weight without showing it.

De Spain credited readily the extraordinary stories he had heard of Sandusky's dexterity with a revolver or a rifle. "That he should so lately have missed a shot at so close range was partly explained now that De Spain perceived Sandusky's small, hard, brown eyes were somewhat unnaturally bright, and that his brows knit every little while in his effort to collect himself. Sandusky's brow shirt sprawled open at the collar, and De Spain remembered again the flashy waistcoat, fastened at the last button-hole by a cut-glass button.

At Sandusky's side sat his crony in all important undertakings—a much larger, sparer man with aggressive shoulders and restless eyes. Logan was the lookout of the pair, and his roving glance lighted on De Spain before the latter had inspected him more than a moment. He lost no time in beginning on De Spain with an insistent question as to what he was looking at. De Spain's eye bent steadily on him, answered with a tone neither of apology nor pronounced offense: "I am looking at you."

CHAPTER VIII.

A Cup of Coffee.

He was willing, after a long and needless search, to confess to himself that he was not a man of the world for a lifetime. The other incidents of the evening would have given any ordinary man enough food for reflection—indeed they did force De Spain to realize that his life would hang by a slender thread while he remained at Sleepy Cat and continued to brave the rulers of the sin.

But this danger, which after all was a portion of his responsibility in freeing his stages from the depredations of the Calabasas gang, failed to make on him the moving impression of one of the most of Nan Morgan's eyes. There was in the whole world, nothing he wanted to do so much as in some way to please her—yet it seemed his ill luck to get continually deeper into her bad graces. Every day that he rode across the open country, his eyes turned to the far range and to Music mountain. The rounded, distant, immutable peak—majestic as the sun, cold as the stars, shrouding in its unknown fastnesses the mysteries of the ages and the secrets of time—meant to him now this mountain girl whom his boldness sheltered and to whom his thoughts continually came back.

Within two weeks he became desperate. He rode the gap trail from Sleepy Cat again and again for miles and miles in the effort to encounter her. He came to know every ridge and hollow on it, every patch and stone bend on the lava beds and over the flat river. And in spite of the counsel of his associates, who warned him to beware of traps, he—under one pretext or another, much of the time either on the stages to and from Calabasas or in the saddle toward Morgan's gap, looking for Nan.

Killing time in this way, after a fruitless ride, his persistence was one day most unexpectedly rewarded. He had ridden through a hot sun from Sleepy Cat to Calabasas, where he had an appointment to meet Scott and Lefever at five o'clock. When De Spain reached the Calabasas barn, McAlpin, the barn boss, was standing in the doorway. "You'd never be coming from Sleepy Cat in the saddle!" exclaimed McAlpin incredulously. De Spain, however, did not seem to be in a humor to be trifled with. "What's that horse doing here?" demanded De Spain coldly.

Before answering, the barn boss eyed De Spain very carefully to see how the wind was setting, for the pony's presence confessed an infraction of a very particular rule. "You see," he began, coughing at his strict boss from below his visorless cap, a questioning Scotch eye, "I like to keep on good terms with that Morgan gang. Some of them can be very ugly. That little pony is Nan Morgan's."

"What's her horse doing here?" asked De Spain.

McAlpin made even the most inconsequential approaches to a statement with a keen and questioning glance. "The girl went up to the Cat on the early stage, sir. She's coming back this afternoon."

"What is she riding away over here to Calabasas for to take the stage, instead of riding straight into Sleepy Cat?"

Once more McAlpin eyed him carefully. "The girl's been sick."

"Sick?"

"She ain't really fit to ride a step, confided the Scotch boss with growing confidence. "But she's been going out two or three times now to get some medicine from Doc Torpy—that's the way of it. There's a nice girl, sir—in a bunch of ruffians. I know—though old Duke, she lives with, he ain't a half-bad man except for too many cards. I used to work for him—but I call her a nice girl. Do you happen to know her?"

The heat was oppressive, and De Spain unbuckled his cartridge belt, slipped his revolver from the holster, mechanically stuck it inside his trousers waistband, hung the heavy belt up under his coat, and, sitting down, called for the stage report and asked whether the new blacksmith had so given him the job that De Spain had called the barn boss "Jim," and McAlpin answered with the rising assurance of one who realizes he is "in" right. "Not so much as a sore hoof in either alley, Mr. De Spain. I try to take care of them, sir."

"What are we paying you, Jim?"

"Twenty-seven a week, sir; pretty heavy work at that."

"We'll try to make it thirty-two after this week."

SIGNS ERECTED TELL MOTORISTS SCHOOLS ARE NEAR

Mount Pleasant Authorities Take Steps to Protect Pupils.

FUNERAL OF HARRY STAUFFER

Mount Pleasant Man Who Died at Pittsburg Is Buried Today; Donald Keister Secures Position in University of Wisconsin; Social Affairs.

MOUNT PLEASANT, Jan. 12.—Warning signs to motorists for protection of the local school children have been erected near all of the buildings. There will be no excuse now for drivers running past them at a high rate of speed, thus endangering the pupils.

The Ladies' Missionary Society of the United Brethren Church held a meeting in the church yesterday afternoon. The "Philippine Islands" was the topic for the day. Plans were laid for the annual thank offering meeting. It was decided to ask the founder, Mrs. Albert Keister, to be present.

The body of Harry Stauffer, son of Mrs. Martin Stauffer of Pittsburg, formerly of this place, will be brought to the United Brethren Church here at 10:30 o'clock today. Interment in the local cemetery. Rev. T. C. Harper will have charge of the funeral.

Donald Keister has accepted a position as teacher in the extension department of the University of Wisconsin and has moved with his wife to Madison, Wisconsin.

Miss Margaret Klink, aged 12 years of Hecla, underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Memorial Hospital on Wednesday evening.

Mrs. W. B. Parker of Pittsburg, was the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. C. Murphy.

The Misses Lobinger entertained a few of their friends at their East End home on Wednesday evening at a fancy work party. Refreshments were served.

Rev. and Mrs. Knox entertained the latter's Sunday school class at their home on Wednesday evening. The officers elected were: President, Ernest Anderson; secretary, Eleanor Coldsmith; and treasurer, Charles Williams.

KEYSTONES ARE WINNERS

Take Two Out of Three From Specials:
Have Lowest Total, However.

The Specials lost two out of three to the Keystone last evening although the losers had a higher total of pins in the match than did the winners. The Specials took the first game, 571 pins to 533. The other two were taken by the Keystone by narrow margins.

Mittredor of the Specials was high man with 452 pins to his credit and for a single game he also took high with 173 pins. The score:

TO OPEN SEASON.

Scottdale High School to Clash With Windber H. S.

The Scottdale high school basketball team will open its season at the Y. M. C. A. tonight with Windber high school as the attraction. A fast game is expected. The Scottdale boys have a good team and they expect to finish the winter in their initial contest.

The game will start at 8 o'clock and will be over in time for the league game between Scottdale and Pitsburg at the auditorium. Scottdale high will line up as follows: Munnaw and Cove, forwards; Lee, center; Laughrey and Beddows, guards.

RECENT PATENTS.

UNIONTOWN HERE TONIGHT

The Penn Team From Village Up the Way Will Play Here.

The Macabee basketball team will clash with the Penn. five from Uniontown this evening at the local court. This is the first time the two teams have met this season and a fast contest is expected.

Reports at the Macabee Hall last evening were that the Penn five was busy gathering up stars, in order to bring along an aggregation that could administer the first defeat of the season to the Macabees.

The Uniontown bunch has lost but one game, the first they played this year, losing to the Mount Pleasant Independents. Connellsville walked over the Independents and are confident of a victory with the Uniontown boys.

Uniontown has been after a game with the Macabees for some time this year, having sent written challenges and also issued one through a newspaper.

The preliminary game will be played on Louis Scioinick's S. C. girls' team and the Macabee team. This will be the first appearance of the S. C. girls.

JOHNNY KILBANE TO RETIRE.

Wants a Crack at Freddie Welsh Before He Quits.

Irrespective of what happens to him between now and 1918, Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion, is going to retire.

"That is why I am so anxious to get a crack at Freddie Welsh," said Kilbane, when he was in Chicago the other day. "I have accumulated enough from my fights and investments to enter business, and I want to get into the real estate game. The day that I announce my retirement will mean just what it says. I will not be open to challenge if I still am champion when I quit. I won't try to come back, and what I say goes. There isn't a man left in my class capable of giving me a good fight since I beat George Chaney. That is why I have to battle lightweights if I fight at all."

"I believe I am as good as any legitimate lightweight in the ring today—that is, men who can make 133 pounds straight. Actually, if I am compelled to let them in at 138 pounds I cannot be expected to whip them. I have the chest, the legs, the arms and the back, and I believe I have the stamina. I want to prove it on Freddie Welsh."

Valuable Guidance.
"Are your children much of a help and a comfort?"
"Yes, indeed. I can always depend on them to tell me where the best moving pictures are to be found."

Thaw Accused Again of Wielding Whip, This Time on a Boy of Nineteen.

The police of every large city sought Harry Thaw, indicted in New York on a charge of having whipped a nineteen-year-old boy.

In a room high up in the Hotel McAlpin Thaw (shown at No. 1 in pictures) on Christmas eve is alleged to have lashed Frederick Gump, Jr. (No. 2 in cut), a Kansas City schoolboy, almost to unconsciousness, after having noticed the lad to New York on pre-charge of educating him.

The New York county grand jury, in returning indictments against Thaw, accuses him of kidnapping the lad. Coupled with that charge are two charges of assault. Conviction on these charges might mean 55 years in prison. In his trial for shooting Stanford White, in which Evelyn Nesbit Thaw figured so prominently, Thaw was accused of having used a dog whip on girls. Thaw will be 46 years old on February 12.

Frank P. Walsh of Kansas City (No. 3), former head of the federal industrial relations commission, is counsel for young Gump's father.

TRIS SPEAKER THE ENGINEER.

Cleveland's Great Player Wants to Pilot
Locomotive—Roth to Be Fireman.

In order to be in top form to start the Cleveland Indians off in the lead next spring Tris Speaker and Bobby Roth are about to don overalls. Beginning about the middle of this month, Tris is to be an engineer and Bobby Roth his fireman, both working for James Dunne, president of the Cleveland club, who also builds railroads as a side issue.

President Dunne stated he recently received a telegram from Speaker saying Tris would be ready to go to work shortly. Roth, who lives in Chicago and finds nothing to interest him in winter, is ready to go to work.

At present Dunne is constructing a road near Frankfort, Ind. When the season was over Speaker went there and watched the gang at work and applied for a job. In his earlier days he learned how to run a locomotive. Roth always has known how to shovel coal. Consequently both are equipped to accept the positions. The job will be to run the engine which hauls the gravel from the borrow pit to the main line, a distance of seventeen miles.

It doesn't matter that Tris received $17,500 for his year's work in baseball last year. He's going to be a three dollar a day guy for a month or six weeks before the training trip starts, and when the boys begin playing ball in New Orleans the leading hitter of the American league will be in shape to start right in at his customary 375 clip.

CRACK HURDLER FOR HARVARD Billy Menick, Former Colby Star, to Wear Crimson.

Billy Menick, the former Colby athlete, will have a chance to win an intercollegiate championship. The former English Eliza, Colby and Boston Athletic association athlete is back at Cambridge and is doing all right in his studies. Menick will probably compete for Harvard in the three cornered meet which Harvard and Dartmouth and University of Pennsylvania will have at Mechanics Hall, Boston, Feb. 17.

He will not represent the Boston Athletic association this year. Menick will probably stick to the 220 low hurdle game during the spring outdoor season and should add greatly to its strength of the Harvard hurdlers.

SWEDES MAY NOT COME.

International Complications Loom in Path of Proposed Visit.

International complications loom in the path of the proposed visit of a team of Swedish athletes to this country during the coming summer, and if the friendly invasion is to be abandoned as it was a year ago it is more than probable that the United States to this country, and accordingly the proposed visit of the Swedes, including the wonderful Dolin, who defeated Ted Meredith consistently at 400 meters last fall, will have to be postponed until a more favorable opportunity arises.

When Meredith returned with the American team early in November he brought word that if the Swedes were unable to send any of their athletes to these shores in 1917 the Swedish Athletic association would send another invitation to the Amateur Athletic association to have a team go from this country to Sweden, Norway and Denmark for a series of athletic meets.

Football Has Iron Man.
Helm Miller of Penn Has Never Been Injured on Gridiron.

Baseball had "Iron Man" McGinnity and a number of other iron men, if we remember correctly; but not to be outdone by the diamond pastime, football has come to the front with an iron man who is more or less of a bear.

This exceedingly lucky young iron man is none other than Helm Miller of Pennsylvania. Miller has been playing football for some seven or eight years, including, of course, his years in high school and at Mercersburg academy. In all that time he has never been lifted from a game on account of injuries. Miller is an end, and the duty of an end has to do with cracking interference by headlong dives at the spikes of opposing athletes. At this game Miller is a past master, and yet he refuses to wear a headgear, because, he says, headgears are too hot and he isn't afraid of getting hurt anyway.

Wallace Succeeds Moriarty as Manager.
It has been decided that Bobby Wallace, famous shortstop of the St. Louis Browns and also for a time an umpire in the American league, will be made manager of the Memphis Southern association team, succeeding George Moriarty, who, oddly enough, succeeds Wallace as an umpire in the American league.

Barry Will Be a Busy Man.
Howard Barry of Pennsylvania says he is going to study hard all winter, as he is going after the pentathlon title and will play baseball, therefore will have a busy spring. What with being on the Mexican border, then football, then books, he also will have had a fairly engrossing summer, fall and winter.

Will be invited to send a small team of its picked athletes to the Scandinavian countries early next fall.

From various sources information has come to the Amateur Athletic union that with the hope of peace in Europe fading, for the time being at least, Sweden is none too sure that it will be able to permit any of its men, least of all its athletes, to come

TONY MULLANE SPEEDIEST PITCHER, SAYS FAN

Did Tony Mullane have more speed than Amos Rusie or Walter Johnson? Was the Apollo of the Cincinnati club the fastest pitcher of all time? So thinks a good old fan, one who watched the Reds of 1909 and watched them come and go ever since—John B. Connolly of Cincinnati. Says Mr. Connolly, "I've looked at them all, and I shall always think that Tony Mullane had more speed than Rusie ever showed."

Unquestionably Mullane had great speed in his earlier years and ranked well up with the fastest men of hurling. It will be hard, however, to convince most fans of Rusie's day that Tony or any other pitcher had the cannonball force that Rusie used to wield.

Name ton "fastest pitcher" and Mullane would be among the ten; name the two fastest, Rusie and Johnson would get the call; name one alone, and the debate as to the relative supremacy of Rusie and Johnson would begin all over.

BETHLEHEM'S PLANS FOR BIG EXTENSION TO SEVERAL PLANTS

Contract Let for New Blast Furnaces By-Product Ovens, Etc.

THE COST WILL BE $100,000,000

Greatest Amount to be Expended in Enlarging Facilities at Maryland Steel and Shipbuilding Plants and Tin Plate Mill at Sparrows Point.

The Bethlehem Steel Corporation has under way at present a program for additions and extensions which involves the expenditure of something over $100,000,000 during the next two or three years. This expenditure will be made to a very large degree at the various plants of the company, but also includes a considerable program at the company's coal and ore mines and at its shipyards.

At the Maryland steel plant at Sparrows Point, Md., four 500-ton blast furnaces costing $19,000,000 have been contracted for, and all the auxiliaries are under way. To supply coke for these furnaces four batteries of 60 ovens each of Koppers coke ovens have been contracted for, complete with by-product plant. These ovens will be 13 1/4 tons capacity. In connection with these coke ovens an elaborate system of coal handling, unloading, crushing, mixing, etc., has been contracted for and will be erected in the next year or 18 months. The ore dock serving the blast-furnace plant will be extended, and additional bridge and unloaders purchased. The 30-foot channel, leading from the main Baltimore channel will be deepened to 35 feet to enable a 17,000-ton ore boat to get all the way up to the ore dock.

The following mills will be added: Forty-inch bloomer, with 24-inch and 18-inch billet mill for sheet bars and billets; 36-inch slabbing mill will be ordered to slab for the three plate mills, which will consist of 110-inch plate mill, 60-inch universal reversing plate mill and one 166-inch plate mill. There will also be installed three merchant-bar and rod mills of semi-continuous type. All the above mills will be motor driven.

The first twelve tinplate mills are at present well under way and 12 more mills will be added as soon as practicable, making 24 mills in all. The installation of this very considerable equipment, of course, requires considerable additions to the company's water stations, transportation department and other general departments. Included in the above is a considerable extension to the iron foundry which will double present capacity.

At the Maryland Shipbuilding Plant at Sparrows Point, Md., a considerable sum will be spent. A new machine shop, 175x120 feet; a blacksmith shop, 75x125 feet, is just being started for these yards. At these yards a new 20,000-ton floating drydock to accommodate vessels up to 500 feet in length by 30 feet beam is now under way. Necessary dredging and concrete bulkhead has been contracted for. In these yards are being built four 41,000-ton ore boats and one 17,000-ton ore boat to transport the company's ores from the Chilean and Cuban mines. All of these boats are well under way.

The Bethlehem Chile Iron Mines

Company will expend $2,000,000 in the next year to bring the output of these mines up to one and a half million tons of ore per year. At the Cuban mines, it is planned to double the present capacity, building up the output to one million tons of ore per year. At the Cuban mines, Daiquiri division, construction work in progress includes a 30,000-ton ore-storage plant and cantilever bridge.

SUFFRAGISTS LATE

President Leaves Before Silent Sentinels Arrive.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Suffrage silent sentinels today resumed duty outside the White House gates despite a freezing wind. They marched over from Congressional Union headquarters with military precision and took up positions flanking the main entrance. They were taken to their posts by the "officer of the day."

President Wilson left the White House for his usual game of golf before the sentinels went on duty but they deployed so he could not fail to see their banners when he returned.

Because of the cold weather the sentinels were changed at frequent intervals to return to headquarters to warm their feet.

When the President and Mrs. Wilson returned, the sentinels quickly ran to position so that they blocked the driveway. The President smiled broadly but gave no recognition of the pickets.

Two Arrests.

Only two arrests were made by the police yesterday. One suspicious character paid a $3.50 fine. A drunk was sentenced to two days' street work.

SENATOR GORE FACES SERIOUS OPERATION IN WASHINGTON HOSPITAL

SENATOR THOMAS P. GORE

Senator Thomas P. Gore of Oklahoma, who has been ill at his home in Washington for several days, was taken to a hospital for an X-ray examination to determine whether a major operation would be necessary. Since his election as senator from the state of Oklahoma in 1907 the career of the blind legislator has been watched with interest by the American public.

SHIVELY GAINED 3 MORE POUNDS

"Why It Has Restored My Health So Perfectly That It Seems a Miracle."

"Yes sir, this Tanlac beats anything I have ever before used," declared F. P. Shively, a well-known salesman who lives at 1007 Third St., Juniata, Pa.

"I had no idea it was so good. Why is has restored my health so perfectly that it seems more like a miracle than anything else."

"I had suffered from stomach trouble. My indigestion was all out of sorts. I couldn't eat. Whenever I did try to take anything solid, I would suffer from gas on my stomach and a sickening feeling that lasted for several hours afterward."

"My nerves were also out of gear, and I couldn't sleep sound and restful at night. I would wake up in the morning feeling heavy and languid, and I could scarcely muster up enough energy to get up and dress myself. I seldom ever could eat breakfast."

"After using two bottles of Tanlac my stomach seems in perfect shape. I can eat good and never sleep better in all my life. My weight has been increased three pounds by Tanlac. I simply can't get enough to eat now."

Tanlac is now sold here by the Connellsville Drug Co.

Tanlac can also be secured in Dunbar at D. C. Mason's Drug Store.—Adv.

Complaint Withdrawn.

The complaint of Vernon F. Taylor, president of the Indian Creek Colliery Company, to the State-Public Service Commission against the Indian Creek Valley railroad, has been withdrawn.

BY-PRODUCT MAKERS

Begin Their First Annual Meeting in Milwaukee, Wis., Tomorrow.

The first annual meeting of the By-product Coke Producers' Association will be held in Milwaukee, Wis., beginning tomorrow. A very large attendance of the members is expected. No special programme has been prepared for the meetings but in addition to the regular reports which will be read the principal topic for discussion will be the standardization of sizes.

It is the hope of the association to bring about some method whereby the various sizes produced will run uniform throughout the country as in coal, instead of with the big difference that prevails today.

The matter of launching a national advertising campaign, exploiting the merits of coke for domestic and manufacturing purposes, will also be discussed at some length, it being the intention of the association to bring before the public the possibilities of coke as fuel.

NEARLY 200,000,000 BUSHEL OF COAL

Passed Through Lock No. 4 on Mononaca River During 1916, But is Short of 1915 and 1916 Records.

With the exception of three months, the river coal trade through Lock No. 4 in 1916 was extremely good, running ahead of any previous year in the history of the river shipping business. The three slow months were April, May and June, when the climax came, was the worst of all. Even had there been a low average maintained in the way of shipments for these three months the coal trade would have been the best ever recorded.

According to the report of Lockmaster James Sweeney, the shipments in October were the heaviest of the year. October is usually the best month of the year, and this was no exception to the general rule.

Only one lock, the new outer lock, was used during 1916 for coal shipments, yet the heavy trade was carried for with comparative ease during the busy months.

Probably 194,311,000 bushels of coal went through the lock. The best yearly trade in history was that of 1913 when the record mark was 210,277,000 bushels. In 1915, the second best year in history, the grand total was 203,390,000 bushels.

IMPROVEMENT IN THE COKE SITUATION ENABLES BANKED FURNACES TO RESUME

The Needs are Not Yet Fully Supplied, Hence Price Keeps Near Top.

NO CONTRACTING BEING DONE

Uncovered Consumers Seemingly Willing to Take Chances With the Spot Market; No Negotiations on
For the Whole Year; Foundry Slow.

Special to The Weekly Courier.
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 10.—The coke situation has gotten into much more satisfactory shape, as evidenced by the fact that nearly all the furnaces that were banked from shortages of coke have now resumed, and the movement of coke is evidently much larger.
It is not, however, entirely sufficient for the needs of the blast furnaces, as spot coke still commands a very fancy price, certainly a famine price even though it is somewhat below the top price paid in the past few weeks.

No additional first quarter contracts are reported, and the situation in the first quarter rests on the business recently done, several contracts at $5.00 with one or two at $5.50, the total of business done at these figures being at least 25,000 tons a month.
There probably remains some uncovered consumption for the first quarter but the furnaces involved are evidently decided upon taking their chances with the spot market.

There are no negotiations for coke
over the whole year and there is no
developed market price for the period.
The majority of uncovered furnaces
would probably be unwilling to bid $5.00 but on the other hand it is uncertain whether operators would sell as low as that.

Spot furnace coke has been available this week at $2.25 in fair quantities, and $3.00 has been done in some instances. Off grade coke has sold at $3.50, or nearer to standard than would ordinarily be expected when prices are so high all around.

Sales of foundry coke for spot shipment at $12.00 have disappeared, the usual quotation now being $11.00.
There are very few sellers and equally few buyers. Any considerable inquiry for spot foundry coke would be unsatisfied as the offerings from day to day amount to only a few cars, and some well known producers are entirely out of the market. It is understood that there is a little inquiry for foundry coke on contract on which $3.00 or possibly $3.50 would be paid, and quotations are obtained with difficulty from a producer, as they are refusing to quote. The market now stands quotable as follows:

Spot furnace .....	$2.25
Contract furnace .....	$3.00
Spot foundry .....	$11.00
Contract foundry .....	$12.00

The pig iron market has been quieter in the past week or two, as compared with the activity prevailing before the holidays, but shows a good degree of strength on all deliveries.
Inquiry is confined almost entirely to prompt and nearby deliveries. In the case of foundry and malleable prompt commands a premium of about $2 a ton, and there may be a slight premium in the case of basic. Some southwest basic has lately been sold in this territory, at a lower price delivered than would be commanded by northern basic, but the material is not considered as desirable on account of higher phosphorus content.

In some quarters another buying movement in pig iron is predicted for the near future, on the ground that first half consumption is not fully covered, while perhaps more than one-half the second half consumption is still to be taken care of. The market stands quotable unchanged as follows:

Basic .....	$25.00
Gray .....	$20.00
No. 2 foundry .....	$22.00
Malleable .....	$22.00
Gray iron .....	$20.00

These prices are f. o. b. Valley furnaces, prices delivered Pittsburgh being higher by the 35 cents freight.

SALTS IF BACKACHE AND KIDNEYS HURT

Stop Eating Meat for a While if Your Bladder is Troubling You.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region
it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy.
When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's uric waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells,
your stomach sour, tongue is coated,
and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels of tea get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts;
take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days
and your kidneys will then act fine.
This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with bicarbonate of soda, and has been used for generations in clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.
Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot harm and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink. —Adv.

COKE TRADE SUMMARY.

Slightly easier, but apparently temporary, conditions in transportation enabled the Connellsville region to get more coke to the consumers last week than during any week since the middle of December, shipments having increased by 25,000 tons to 354, 000. Production made the higher total of 354,000, but its increase was only 25,000 tons.

Shipping of an embargo on all shipments except engine coal
west of Pittsburgh by the B. & O.
R. R. may work a hardship on many consumers in the Youngstown district by keeping them out of coke.

The better movement of coke
has enabled the banked furnaces to resume operation. There is still great need for coke, and prices keep near the top paid in the past few weeks.

The first quarter contract situation rests on those recently done at $5.00 and $5.50. Uncovered consumers seem to be willing to take chances with the spot market.

Spot furnace coke holds close to $2.00, with $2.50 and lower for off grades. Spot foundry has scaled down $1.00 to $1.10. Producers are not likely to quote on contract foundry offers being but $3.00 to $3.50.

NO HEADWAY IN MOVING STEEL

Better Transportation Conditions Help
Fuel Supply But No Attempt is Made to More Accumulations.

Special to The Weekly Courier.
NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The American Metal Market and Daily Iron & Steel Report will review the steel and iron trade tomorrow as follows:

Transportation conditions throughout the iron and steel industry have improved materially. Nearly all the banked blast furnaces have resumed and steel shipments have closely approached productive capacity again.

No headway has been made in moving steel already accumulated at mills.
It is recognized that the present relief may prove only temporary, as the weather has been unseasonably mild and a really cold snap would greatly handicap the railroads.

The pressure for steel deliveries is insistent, even more so than two or three weeks ago. Whether this is due to exhaustion of stocks or to fear of a railroad blockade cannot be determined, steel consumers being indisposed to take anyone into their confidence.

Specifications on steel contracts are at a higher rate than during the holidays but at a lower rate than in the fore part of December. New buying is light, on the whole, but is of fair proportions in certain directions, there being a moderate demand for car material and a heavy demand for ship material.

Steel prices are firm all along the line and no one expects any softening tendency to develop as long as the mills are so well filled with business and buyers continue to clamor for deliveries.

There is less disposition than formerly to deny the obvious fact that given an indefinite continuance of the war the steel industry cannot maintain its present position for a great many months. On account of the shipping situation exports are likely to be smaller rather than larger and eventually the high prices will tell upon domestic consumption. The industry is wound up to run a certain length of time, presumably the major part of this year, but no longer.

The pig iron market is showing a fair degree of activity, chiefly for the early deliveries. In some instances premiums are paid for prompt shipment. For second half delivery the market is quiet, but steady.

PIG IRON SALES

Plant Furnaces Disposed of Approximately 9,000,000 tons in 1916.

The merchant blast furnaces in 1916 sold approximately 9,000,000 tons of pig iron of all grades, reflecting great activity at the iron foundries and machine shops as well as at the steel plants. Of the total sales, nearly 2, 000,000 tons, it is estimated, were for export. Some of the sales of course, are for delivery during the first and second half of 1917.

The total output of pig iron by all interests in 1916 is estimated at 38, 800,000 tons. It is thus evident that the steel companies which utilize their own production had an output of about 20,000,000 tons, of which the United States Steel Corporation produced 16, 700,000 tons.

"MAKES GOOD" AS AGENT AND STARTS A NEW PROFESSION FOR WOMEN.

MISS EDNA FLYNN

The first woman traveling passenger agent is Miss Edna Flynn, on the staff of one of the great transcontinental railroads. Miss Flynn was discovered by a high official of the system in a small town in Washington, and he was so impressed with her ability that he brought her into Seattle and created the new position for her.

She proved so successful in this new line of work, selling tickets exclusively to women and handling women and children, both in the local office and on the road, that the road decided to carry out the innovation at all of its principal offices, and a flock of girls were brought to Seattle and trained by Miss Flynn for their new duties.
They will now attend annual meetings of passenger agents of the opposite sex on an equality.

1915'S COAL MINING RECORD

Shows That Pennsylvania Produced
47% of the Total Output of U. S.; Mine Fatalities Smallest.

Advance sheets of the annual report of James D. Roderick, Chief of the Department of Mines, Harrisburg, for the past year 1915 shows that of the production of 518,000,000 net tons of coal in the United States, Pennsylvania mined 247,000,000, or 47% of the total. Of the 767,564 men employed in the mines, 365,072 worked in Pennsylvania.

In the United States exclusive of Pennsylvania, the number of fatalities was 1,236, or 3.07 per 1,000 employees.
The number for each million tons produced was 4.56, and the production for each fatality was 219,423 tons, while in Pennsylvania, where the conditions are much like those existing in other states, the production was 137,420,068
tons, the number of employees 187,734,
of which 442 were killed, which equals 2,336 per 1,000 employees, or 2.81 per million tons produced, and 356,154 tons were produced for each fatality.

If the fatalities in the United States exclusive of Pennsylvania had been 2,336 per 1,000 employees, as in the Pen-sylvania bituminous mines, instead of 3.07, the loss of life in the mines of the United States outside of Pennsylvania would have been 946 instead of 1,236, a reduction of 290. If the fatality in the bituminous mines of Pen-sylvania had been 3.07, instead of 2.85 per 1,000 employees, the number of killed would have been 576 instead of 442, an increase of 134.

The fatalities in and about the anthracite mines are more numerous than in the bituminous mines, but the greater degree of danger does not equal the greater percentage of fatality, shown to be almost one life for every 1,000 employees as compared with the bituminous fatalities. The conditions, however, are such that the Department of Mines officials say they cannot control them under the present anthracite law enacted in 1891.

DOES RHEUMATISM BOTHER YOU?

Many Doctors Use Musterole
So many sufferers have found relief in Musterole that you ought to buy a small jar and try it.
Just spread it on with the fingers. Rub it in. First you feel a gentle glow, then a delicious, cooling comfort. Musterole softens the twinges, loosens up stiffened joints and muscles.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment made with oil of mustard. It penetrates to the seat of pain and drives it away,
but does not blister the tenderest skin.
It takes the place of the mussy, old fashioned mustard plaster.

Musterole is recommended for bronchitis, croup, asthma, pleurisy, lumbago,
neuralgia, sprains, bruises, stiff neck, headache and colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia).
